Volunteer Welcome Letter

Dear Volunteer:

Thank you for volunteering your time to be on our team of dedicated and caring people. Volunteer services are very important for our older residents in helping them maintain their quality of life here in Carlisle. Without volunteers like you, the Carlisle Council on Aging could not deliver the wide variety of services we do. All of us here at the COA want you to find volunteering to be an enjoyable, worthwhile experience. Therefore, I encourage you to only accept the assignments that you can easily fulfill, and would take pleasure in doing. You are under no obligation to volunteer a minimum of hours. You should expect to be treated with respect and care by those you are assisting, including staff, seniors, and other volunteers. If you experience any problems, do not hesitate to inform us of them, and we will be happy to help resolve any issue. Some of the elders you will be working with have medical issues, are frail, or have problems adjusting to new life-altering experiences such as not being able to drive anymore, physical limitations, memory problems, death of a spouse, or having to move from their long-time residence. We ask for your patience in working with these individuals. Sometimes you are the one connection of care and support in their lives that makes the difference in helping them to cope with changes. Most likely, you will find working with our elders a very rewarding experience- we do!

In compliance with Massachusetts law (M.G.L.c.6, &172C), we must require CORI (Criminal Offender Record Information) checks of all people 17 years of age and older, working with our most vulnerable citizens. If you would please stop by the COA office at the Carlisle Town Hall at your earliest convenience, you can obtain a CORI form to fill out and submit for a background check. Please be aware that a copy of your MA driver's license will also be required as proof of identification. I am usually in the office on Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Again, thank you for volunteering and welcome aboard! The COA staff and I are here to ensure that your donated time is rewarding for both you and our clients. Please do not hesitate to call our office at (978) 371-2895 or my direct line at (978) 371-6693 for any further information or questions.

Sincerely,

David Klein

The Carlisle Council on Aging (COA)

The Mission of the COA

The mission of the Council on Aging is to continually improve the quality of life for the community's senior citizens. Volunteers are a crucial element of programs and services offered and are vital to the successful implementation of the Council's mission.

The Purpose of the COA

The COA is part of a state wide network of 348 Councils on Aging (COA's) serving over 440,000 seniors and family member. COA's are human services agencies responsible for coordinating state, federal and local programs on behalf of a town's senior population. As with all COA's, the Carlisle COA is a resource for seniors and their families and serves as the primary advocate for senior services within the community. The COA is grounded in local needs, local custom, and local participation. Funding comes from town revenues, state and local grants, and private contributions. The COA is a unique, social services organization that responds to a range of needs within the senior community while respecting the dignity of older citizens, and encouraging their participation in events that affect their well-being and independence.

Services for seniors currently offered by the COA include: coordination with other social service agencies, recreation and social activities, outreach, home delivered meals through the Meals on Wheels program, guidance in the form of referrals regarding medical, financial, and legal issues, health and emergency fuel and food services, and housing. Transportation for medical appointments, social and recreational activities, food shopping and shopping for other needs is also provided.

In addition to these services, the COA is also responsible for: operating the town's fuel assistance program, serving as the town's agent for the State Food Stamp Program, administering the Senior Citizen Tax Voucher Program, serving as the town's Salvation Army Service Unit, distributing File of Life kits in conjunction with the Carlisle Fire Department, working with the Police Department on the RUOK safety check program, publication of a monthly newsletter for residents sixty and over, and coordination and supervision of the COA volunteer program.

The Employees of the COA

David Klein, Director

Our director manages and administers all the operations and activities of the Council on Aging to provide support services for the senior citizens of Carlisle. Their oversight and management ensure that all programs and services are conducted in accordance with town and state guidelines, and within appropriate legal boundaries. The director works with the Board of the Council on Aging to assess the needs of the seniors in Carlisle, and to provide the services that meet those needs. David can be reached at: 978-371-6693.

Angela Smith, Outreach & Program Manager

Angela responds to phone calls, and emails, and conducts home visits as needed to address elder needs. She works with area agency social workers, protective service workers, caregivers and family members to help elders and their families identify available resources. Angela also coordinates and manages the volunteer program, coordinates the Sr. Tax Worker Program, and can help with fuel and food assistance applications. Angela can be reached at: 978-371-2895.

Peter Cullinane, Licensed Social Worker

Peter assists and advises the Director and Outreach & Program Manager with assessment of elder needs, offers guidance to elders and their families going through transitional changes, identifies elders-at-risk, and works closely with local providers, human service agencies, and the Council on Aging in providing services to these individuals. Peter can be reached through the COA office at: 978-371-2895 or 978-371-6693.

Debbie Farrell, Transportation Coordinator

Debbie coordinates transportation services for medical appointments, social and recreational events, and general shopping needs. The Transportation Coordinator also coordinates and manages the Meals on Wheels program (MOW), providing a schedule of volunteers for pick-up and delivery of meals, orientation of volunteer MOW drivers, and maintaining a data-base of all volunteers and meal recipients. Debbie can be reached by calling the COA Van Line at: 978-371-6690.

Linda Cavallo-Murphy & Myriam Fleurimond, Outreach & Program Assistants

Linda and Myriam both are part-time. They help by answering the phone, and entering data into our Council on Aging data base, My Senior Center, and helps with administrative tasks. Linda also coordinates the newsletter and its mailing, along with coordinating our exercise programs. Linda and Myriam can be reached at 978-371-2895.

Guidelines to Volunteering at the COA

Goals of the Volunteer Program

The goals of the Volunteer Program are to effectively serve and support the senior population of Carlisle by thoughtfully matching an individual's skills and interests with the needs of senior citizens and the Council. Council staff members strive to create an atmosphere that is pleasant, supportive, respectful, and meaningful for all involved, and to provide appropriate training so that volunteers are comfortable and confident in their role.

The Benefits of Volunteering

While the Council could not provide the level, range and quality of services it does without the unique talents and dedication of its volunteers, there are also benefits for volunteers themselves. Volunteers report that in addition to directly helping others and fulfilling important social needs, their involvement is emotionally uplifting, makes them feel more connected to the community at large, often leads to learning new skills, and is an avenue for meeting new people and making new friends.

Volunteer Commitment

The work of the Council relies heavily on the generous support and dedication of its volunteers. Every volunteer assignment has specific tasks, responsibilities and time commitments that will be shared with you as part of the volunteer training process. As a volunteer, others will depend on you to follow through on your assignment. Before volunteering, be sure you are clear and comfortable with the level of involvement required. When you agree to become a volunteer, we ask that you honor your commitment as a volunteer to the best of your ability, so that the Council can implement its programs effectively and reliably.

Attendance

Should you be unable to fulfill your volunteer commitment for any reason, we ask that you give as much notice as possible by contacting the Council on Aging Office at (978) 371-2895 or 978-371-6693. It is important that office staff is notified of any cancellation as soon as possible so that a substitute can be found.

Inclement Weather Policy

Events are often cancelled in the event of extreme weather conditions. Cancellations are announced via the COA phone message accessed by calling (978) 371-2895, so please check first before reporting for an assignment when the weather is bad. Should weather make it impossible for you to report for any volunteer activity that may not be cancelled due to weather or to drive a client to an appointment, the following process should be followed:

1. Call the Carlisle Council on Aging office at (978) 371-2895 to notify staff that you will be unable to perform a volunteer activity due to inclement weather.
2. If you are a transportation volunteer, please call the client directly as soon as possible to let them know that you will be unable to drive them and that they will need to cancel their appointment. Please inform the client that they will need to call the Transportation Coordinator. Then, please call the Transportation Coordinator and let her know that the appointment has been cancelled. The Transportation Coordinator can be reached at (978) 371-6690.

Personal Health & Safety

Your health and safety are a high priority for us. It is important that you always use your best judgment regarding physical exertion. Examples of going beyond your abilities include but are not limited to: lifting heavy items, assisting a client who has fallen, assisting a client in wheelchair when it is a strain for you to do so, not taking a break when you are tired and volunteering when you are sick. If you are unable to perform an activity or feel uncomfortable performing a task at anytime, please let the Outreach & Program Manager or COA Director know.

Volunteer Rights & Responsibilities

Volunteers have the right to ...

- a clear description of the job to be done
- be treated as a respected member of the work team
- receive appropriate orientation and training to ensure a successful service experience
- be assigned suitable and meaningful assignments
- be informed of COA policies and procedures and relevant changes as they develop
- be provided with proper supervision, supplies, and working conditions related to any assignment
- be recognized and acknowledged for contributions on an ongoing basis
- be provided feedback and support regarding performance
- say “NO” to a request and not feel guilty about it and the responsibility to ...

- respect and keep confidences, be considerate, respectful, flexible and cooperative
- accept assignments within one’s capabilities
- fulfill commitments
- follow guidelines and approved practices
- decline work where biases or conflicts will interfere
- use time wisely and not interfere with the work of others
- communicate questions, concerns, observations, and suggestions to COA staff as soon as they arise

Volunteer Do's and Don'ts

Do's

- Regard everything you hear as confidential information
- Report anything unusual to the Director or Outreach & Program Manager
- Be friendly and a good listener
- Present yourself with a neat and clean appearance
- Keep your commitment, but if you can't, please inform Council staff as soon as possible
- Consider yourself a valued member of the Council team
- Report any injuries immediately to the Director or Outreach & Program Manager
- Use good judgment and caution at all times

And Don'ts

- Bring food to any client without checking with the Director or Outreach & Program Manager as some clients may be on medically restricted diets.
- Provide any physical care, such as bathing, dressing, lifting a client (e.g. from bed to chair, a fall, etc.)
- Make any promises you personally can't keep
- Discuss clients or their condition with anyone except Council staff at any time
- Administer medication or provide medical advice or assistance (e.g., changing dressing, applying ointments, etc.)
- Report to your assignment if you are ill

Volunteer Services Policies

Confidentiality

As part of your volunteer experience through the COA, you may have access to private information about people who use our services. The COA policy on confidentiality is as follows:

In order to preserve the right to privacy of any and all clients, volunteers who have access to confidential information including but not limited to: a client's health information, conversations, visitor and family relationships and any client records or computer data, shall maintain the confidentiality of such information. All information is required to be maintained in strict confidence.

Please honor the confidentiality of your position, being careful to protect and respect all information that you see or hear. You may talk about your volunteer position with others but, please take care to not divulge private or identifying information about anyone. This also includes communication in emails back and forth to COA staff. Do not use the client's name in the subject of an email. Try to use only the client's initials in the body of the email if possible. The assurance of confidentiality is vital to the integrity of the experience that client's have with the COA. If you have specific concerns or questions, please speak with a COA staff member. Every volunteer is required to read and sign the Volunteer Confidentiality Agreement Form (see below). Anything seen or overheard relating to the client(s) is considered confidential and must remain confidential.

Conflict of Interest

The COA prohibits volunteers from engaging in any activity, practice or act which conflicts with, or appears to conflict with, the interests of the COA or, its affiliates, its clients, or its suppliers. Volunteers may not solicit paid clients for their services or hand out business cards in their interactions with clients. Volunteers should never work or provide services for a fee to a client they see or meet in their capacity as a volunteer of the COA. Volunteers should perform no functions beyond the normal responsibilities or duties described upon their being a volunteer with the COA. If you have any questions about this, please contact David Klein at 978-371-6693.

Elder Abuse

Elder Abuse: An act or omission which results in serious physical or emotional injury to an elderly person or financial exploitation of an elderly person; or the failure, inability or resistance of a person to provide for an elder one or more of the necessities essential for physical and emotional well-being without which the elderly person would be unable to safely remain in the community (Ma. General Laws, 2004).

Appropriate action to take: As a representative of the COA, it is your responsibility to let either the Outreach & Program Manager or the Director know if you suspect that a client may be neglected and/or verbally or physically abused. As a town department, COA management is a mandated reporter, required by law to report suspected incidents of abuse.

Elders at-Risk

Elders At-Risk: Elders are considered to be seriously at risk when they are no longer able to meet essential needs for food, clothing, shelter, personal care or medical care due to physical and/or mental impairments, substance abuse, or other serious problems, preventing them from remaining safely in the community without intervention (Executive Office of Elder Affairs).

Appropriate action to take: As a representative of the COA, it is your responsibility to let the Outreach & Program Manager or the Director know if a client may need intervention of the Elders At-Risk Program to continue living safely in the community.

Gifts

Volunteers and their immediate families are not allowed to accept gifts of any significant value from clients. Volunteers are not to give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, anything of significant value to any client.

Name Tag Policy

Volunteers working as Meals on Wheels Drivers or Friendly Drivers are required to wear a name tag. It is imperative that volunteers in these positions wear their name tags at all times as a safety precaution since this is the only way seniors can identify representatives and volunteers from the Council. Name tags are provided by the COA. If the name tag is lost, or if you have not yet received one, please see the Outreach & Program Manager.

Transporting Clients: Special Conditions

It is the policy of the Carlisle COA not to transport clients to and from medical appointments if the client will be sedated or when a client is being released from a hospital stay. This policy is in place to protect you and insure that you are not in a position where you might have to manage a complication that may occur due to either a procedure or sedation.

Personal Conduct Policies

Alcohol & Drug Use

The Carlisle COA is prohibited by town bylaw to serve alcohol at any COA Department events. No volunteer should be under the influence of alcohol or recreational drugs while volunteering for the Council. In addition, transportation volunteers should never transport a client in their vehicle if they are under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol.

Client Safety

If at any time a client is injured or needs medical attention, please call 911.

DO NOT ATTEMPT TO ADMINISTER MEDICAL TREATMENT TO ANY CLIENT.

If the client needs CPR or the Heimlich maneuver, please feel free to do so IF YOU ARE CERTIFIED in these procedures and comfortable in performing them. Notify the COA Office at 987-371-2895 or 978-371-6693 as soon as possible of any such occurrence.

Please do not attempt to transport a client that is in a wheelchair unless you are physically able to assist this person.

Emergencies

If a situation arises with a client during your volunteer shift that is deemed an emergency, where appropriate, immediately call 911, and alert the dispatcher of the type of emergency. With the client's best interests in mind, it is at the discretion of the volunteer to determine how to handle any other emergency that may arise. Notify the COA Office at 987-371-2895 or 978-371-6693 as soon as possible of any such occurrence.

Please refer to Client Safety above.

Injury & Incident

If an unusual incident, event or injury to you or the elder client occurs during your volunteer shift, immediately notify the Director, or in her absence, the Outreach & Program Manager. Incidents related to health, injury, accident or other causes all require an incident report. As a town department, the COA management is a mandated reporter, required to document and report all incidents and injuries within 24 hours. Incident forms can be obtained from the Director or Outreach & Program Manager

Medications

Volunteers are NOT allowed to administer medications to any client. Medications are the responsibility of the patient or caregiver, not the volunteer.

Sexual Harassment

One of the responsibilities of the COA management is to promote a work environment that is free of sexual harassment. The COA takes any and all allegations of sexual harassment seriously. We will respond to all complaints of sexual harassment and act to eliminate the conduct and impose corrective action when necessary. As a volunteer you will be required to read the following policy and sign a statement that states that you understand the policy.

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination that violates Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission defines sexual harassment as: unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitutes sexual harassment when submission to or rejection of this conduct explicitly or implicitly affects an individual's employment, unreasonably interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment (U.S. Equal Opportunity Commission).

Sexual harassment can occur in a variety of circumstances, including but not limited to the following:

- the harasser's conduct must be unwelcomed.
- the victim as well as the harasser can be a woman or a man
- the victim does not have to be of the opposite sex.
- the victim does not have to be the person harassed but could be anyone affected by the offensive conduct.
- unlawful sexual harassment may occur without discharge of the victim (U.S. Equal Opportunity Commission).

Volunteers should immediately report any incidents of sexual harassment that may be initiated by clients, family members of clients, employees, or anyone else relating to the work environment.

Any volunteer who feels that she or he has been harassed should report the incident immediately either verbally or in writing to COA Director. When the complaint is received, an investigation of the allegation will be pursued in a confidential, fair and timely manner. The investigation will include a private interview with the person filing the complaint and with witnesses. The person who has allegedly committed the sexual harassment will be interviewed. When the investigation is completed, all involved parties will be informed of the results.

If it is determined that inappropriate conduct has occurred, the COA Director will act promptly to eliminate the offending conduct and to apply appropriate, disciplinary action as warranted by the behavior and the role of those involved, consistent with town policy.

Shopping & Handling of Money

When volunteering to perform shopping tasks, volunteers need to make sure the client supplies adequate shopping funds. Volunteers should always receive the appropriate amount of money prior to performing the shopping tasks. Volunteers should not use their own money to pay for any purchase for later reimbursement by the client.

Smoking

Smoking is NOT allowed at Carlisle COA events or when in contact with clients.

Volunteering

Volunteering is a human services function that provides a rewarding and enriching means of supporting members of the community. The opportunities described below depend primarily on the support of volunteers. The list below is not all inclusive; new opportunities may emerge at any time based on changing needs of the community as well as the interests and skills of new and veteran volunteers. Suggestions for new volunteer activities and events are encouraged and always welcomed by Council staff.

A general description of the purpose, responsibilities, time commitment, and supervisory responsibility related to each position is provided below. Special requirements or details are provided for various volunteer positions, as needed.

In addition to complying with confidentiality and privacy guidelines, it is expected that volunteers will be courteous, caring, and understanding while maintaining appropriate and ethical boundaries in their interactions with elderly citizens and co-workers, as detailed in the Personal Conduct section of this manual.
